DAVEY TO RUN OWN CAMPAIGN FOR THIRD TERM

But Professes Complete Accord With Chairman Francis Poulson

LATTER SCOFFS AT RIFT RUMOR

Varied Reports, On Other Hand, Indicate All's Not Well

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, April 27.—Martin L. Davey will direct his own campaign for a third term as governor of Ohio, but in complete accord with State Democratic Chairman Francis W. Poulson.

Poulson said today this plan had been decided upon, but that it in no way reflected a split between him and the governor, which has been rumored occasionally the last four years.

"On Friendliest Terms"
"The governor and I are on the friendliest of terms and there is every indication that we will remain that way," Poulson said.

"The governor will conduct his own campaign, but it will be done in a friendly manner and in full cooperation with the Democratic state organization."

"Of course, my first duty is to the party and I believe the governor feels that as it should be."

Poulson recalled that Davey in his previous campaigns had directed much of the promotional effort from his home town of Kent. Davey also is expected to set-up a Columbus headquarters.

The Democratic chieftain dismissed published reports of a rift between himself and either the executive or Mrs. Myrna Smith, Davey's private secretary.

Break Over Assessment
The Ohio State Journal said the rift in relations between Davey and Poulson appeared to be developing "over the administration's assessment of the need of the state of state employees to bolster the governor's campaign chest."

Poulson said that he had conferred with Davey and other administration leaders last night and that he and the governor were "on the best of terms."

Mrs. Smith, it was understood, would be in direct charge of Davey's bid for re-nomination. Throughout Davey's political life she has been a leading organizer in his campaigns.

Quota Hears Talk By Dr. C. L. Smith

Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Smith were guests of the Salem Quota club at a dinner meeting in the Memorial building Tuesday evening.

Following the dinner Dr. Smith gave an interesting talk on "The Western Mayflower" and the settling of the Western Reserve territory. Dr. Smith spoke of the organization by Manassah Culler of the Ohio Land Co., which encouraged settlers to make their home in the new territory.

Marietta was the center of the territory, in which land was purchased and paid for with military certificates. The sequentennial of the settlement of the Western Reserve territory is being celebrated this year.

A phase of the celebration is the trip of a number of young men from New England to Ohio by covered wagon, termed the "Western Mayflower" by Dr. Smith, following the same route that settlers used in coming to this section.

Archduke's Heart

A romance which began in a little country inn has resulted in the engagement of Archduke Albrecht to Katharine Booskey, 24 (above). The Archduke, head of the Hungarian branch of the Hapsburg family, was divorced from his morganatic wife in June.

F. D. R. AND FORD IN CONFERENCE

Industrialists Pledge Efforts To Help Business

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 27.—President Roosevelt brought Henry Ford to a homey luncheon conference in the small White House family dining room today.

Earlier plans of the chief executive to receive Ford on a sunny portico just off the executive office were discarded. No reason was given but the change apparently was due to the chilly temperature that did not rise even after several hours of bright morning sunshine.

A crowd of several hundred persons awaiting a glimpse of Ford soon heard of the switch in plans and rushed to the front entrance of the White House in front of the executive wing.

A pledge by 16 top-ranking industrialists and financiers to cooperate with administration efforts to aid business created a dramatic prelude today for Mr. Roosevelt's conference with Ford.

Many observers predicted their promise of assistance in restoring "confidence and normal business conditions," apparently inspired by Mr. Roosevelt's recent "fireside chat," would help clear the way for a new period of teamwork between government and business.

There was a prospect that Mr. Roosevelt would invite the signers, including Owen D. Young, General Electric chairman, and Winthrop W. Aldrich, chairman of the Chase National bank, to confer with him at an early date.

Cow On State Street Is Reminiscent of Early Rural Days

Lucky for the animal that there weren't more cars on the street.

A cow owned by Howard Harris of Woodland ave., which was being transported in a small trailer, towed by an automobile, fell from the trailer on E. State st. near S. Broadway yesterday.

The cow lost its balance when the automobile started forward suddenly.

"Bossie" was roped and led away from danger, creating, momentarily, a rural scene reminiscent of early days.

Sebring Homes Fail To Draw Single Bid

SEBRING, April 27.—Placed on the auction block Tuesday by representatives of the Mahoning county treasurer's office, the palatial homes of the late O. H. Sebring and E. H. Sebring, two of the five brothers who founded the village, failed to attract a single bid.

They were to have been sold to satisfy tax claims of $6,250 and $8,750, respectively. Thirty-one parcels of property of the E. H. Sebring Realty Co., unsold at public auction four weeks ago, are being reappraised for a second sale.

LONDON, PARIS MINISTERS ACT TO KEEP PEACE

Growing Nazi Clamor In Czechoslovakia To Be Discussed

SUDETENS SEEK SELF REGULATION

France Already Pledged To Aid Central European Rally

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, April 27.—The heads of the French and British governments will take up the growing Nazi clamor in Czechoslovakia and its dangers to their plans for European peace agreements in important conversations beginning tomorrow.

Two developments made the Czech question paramount to Premiers Daladier and Chamberlain.

1. The prediction by Berlin Nazis that the German Nazis of Czechoslovakia would demand early in June an election on whether they desire to remain under Czech jurisdiction, or be joined to greater Germany.

2. A Czech memorandum to French Premier Daladier, rejecting as a threat to Czech independence the demands by the Nazi leader Konrad Henlein for revision of Czech foreign policy in a manner favorable to Germany's friends, and self government with Nazi principles for the 3,500,000 Germans resident in Czechoslovakia.

Because of this memorandum, Premier Daladier was said by French informants to have shifted the subject matter of the talks from Franco-British military and diplomatic cooperation to the more specific point of the danger to France's central European ally, and what to do about it.

France Already Pledged
France already is pledged to aid Czechoslovakia if subjected to aggression, but thus far has been unsuccessful in getting Britain to adopt a similar definite guarantee.

The British foreign secretary, Viscount Halifax, will team with Prime Minister Chamberlain when they meet the Frenchmen tomorrow—six months to the day after their predecessors came here on a similar mission, but under vastly different circumstances.

Chief of the changes are:
Germany annexed Austria on March 12, Britain signed a friendship accord with Fascist Italy in line with Chamberlain's policy of dealing with dictators to keep peace, and France is negotiating a similar accord.

Hope To Lure Duce Away
The upshot of these changes might be a Franco-British effort to lure Italy's Premier Mussolini from his Nazi colleague, and thereby provide a possible deterrent to open Nazi encroachment in Czechoslovakia.

That there soon may be a test of Nazi strength in Czechoslovakia seems highly probable.

There will be elections there May 22 to June 6, and Berlin Nazis assert the Nazified Sudeten German party will demand a chance to decide on union with Germany immediately thereafter.

Hidden Talents Program Pre-Music Week Feature

Mrs. Esther Odoran to Present Recital at 8:15 P. M. Friday at High School Auditorium

When Mrs. Esther Odoran presents Hidden Talents No. 3 in her third annual musical recital at 8:15 p. m. Friday at the High school auditorium, Salem will be given a forerunner program for Music Week to be observed the coming week.

This year she is presenting Wenceslas, teacher of music at Goshen Township High school, Damascus, as one of the many new attractions.

The outstanding number on the program is expected to be the Rosalie number starring Edson Gibbons and Susie Herman. Supporting them will be a dance chorus from the Bettie Lee Kenneweg studio and a singing chorus. Scenery and costumes and indirect lighting combine to give a beautiful effect.

George Catlin, who has won several prizes for singing and who has appeared in radio recitals, and Victoria Cosgrove, the little singer whose voice has been captivating audiences in many places throughout the county, will add their contributions to an unusually attractive program.

The hidden talent for this year is the little symphony orchestra organized in Leetonia under the direction of William Rankin. They call themselves The Ambassadors.

Gene and Glenn Weingart in their interpretive songs; Buddy Metz, a 9-year-old boy from East Liverpool who is said to be really worth hearing; Mary Dorr of Kensington; Esther Binsley, Jeanette White and Jessie May Hasbrouck of Lisbon are among the many others who will be featured. The Kensington and Lisbon girls are newcomers to Salem audiences.

Rehearsals for this musical treat have been directed by Mrs. Odoran for several weeks and the best of the three Hidden Talents productions is anticipated Friday night.

The body of Frank Montgomery, 30, unmarried, of St. Clair, was brought to the surface shortly after rescue squads went down. Paul Sikra, 40, and Wasi Holovak, 45, also of St. Clair, were removed dead later.

Andrew Potts, 42, mine fire boss, was among those critically burned.

The blaze was not noticed until it had gained such headway that saving any part of the structure was impossible. Two trucks, considerable farm machinery and a large amount of grain were also lost in the fire.

Crawford said that part of the damage was covered by $400 in insurance.

Czechoslovakia Faces Showdown on Nazi Issue

Above—Prospects for compromise between the Czechoslovakian government and the pro-Nazi Sudeten party in the western section of the country appeared slim following a virtual ultimatum issued by Konrad Henlein, leader of the faction, in which he demanded complete equality for the Sudeten party and self-government for German areas.

At the same time, President Edward Benes and Premier Milan Hodza, calling an emergency cabinet meeting, were confronted with the problem of dealing with Hungary's claims to jurisdiction over 692,000 Hungarians now under the Czech flag, and to Poland's revived interest in an 82,000 Polish minority.

Below—Czechoslovakia's army, though small numerically, is highly mechanized, as this fast traveling armored car unit, maneuvering near Prague, shows. Observers are wondering about the effectiveness of this small army in the event of an invasion.

Seven boys were named today as qualifiers for the Prospect school finals in The Salem News marble tournament for boys and girls under 15 years of age.

The boys are all survivors of room elimination tournaments in which the entrants for school finals are determined.

Among the seven room winners certified by Miss Ora Montgomery, principal, is George Drakulich, who won the Prospect school championship while a fifth grade student last year and tied for runner-up honors in the city finals with Tommy Leslie of Reilly school.

Defends His Title
George will defend his school championship this year as a representative of the sixth grade.

Two other boys who played in the Prospect school finals last year will also compete again this year after winning their room tournaments for a second time. They are Jack Resatka, who won the elimination tourney in the fifth grade.

Burial Ground of Lisbon's Pioneers Will Be Improved

LISBON, April 27.—Tentative plans for the beautification of this village's first cemetery, one of the oldest in the state, are being promulgated with the support of county officials.

A group of interested residents is sponsoring the program. The cemetery for years has been abandoned. Tombstones, many of them 125 years old, will be restored; weeds and underbrush removed and the entire site beautified, if the plan is successful.

The burial ground was established by Lewis Kinney in 1803. In it are buried most of the pioneers who founded the village. Several graves belong to veterans of the War of 1812.

The officers of the mass will be: Celebrant, Rev. Fr. Joseph Conlon of St. John's cathedral, Cleveland; deacon, Rev. Fr. Bernard Blatt of Our Lady of Peace parish, Cleveland; sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. George Donlon of Painesville.

Rev. Fr. Cook has been assistant pastor at St. Paul's since last July, coming here from Hubbard, his first assignment following his ordination. The public is extended an invitation to attend the special mass.

Alliance Council Gets Finance Tips

ALLIANCE, April 27.—Oratory flowed freely in city hall Monday night as one of the largest crowds to attend a council meeting in years packed every available inch of space to voice opinions on how to solve the city's financial problems.

Suggestions ranging from the city declaring itself bankrupt, to the city running a lottery were offered by citizens. Each one who had come to tell city officials their plan of emerging the city from the most difficult financial difficulty in local history was heard. The meeting lasted nearly two hours and a half.

EAST PALESTINE, April 27.—Re-vamping of salaries paid city officials was urged today by council, asking for a comprehensive study of the pay received by the various appointive and elective office-holders.

100 Civil Service Aids to be Heard In Extended Probe

Information On Democratic Fund Solicitation Sought

INQUIRY SCOPE WIDENED TODAY

Sales Tax Clerk Charges He Had Been Asked To Contribute $78

COLUMBUS, April 27.—Att'y Gen. Herbert S. Duffy directed today that about 100 civil service employees of the state be questioned to determine if they had been solicited for Democratic campaign contributions.

Scope of the attorney general's inquiry was broadened following interrogation of Francis C. Hooper, sales tax division clerk, who charged in an affidavit that he had been asked to donate $78, five per cent of his annual salary, to Gov. Martin L. Davey's reelection campaign.

Alleged Solicitors Summoned
Also summoned for questioning by Assistant Attorneys General Will P. Stephenson and Fred Cuff were Daniel S. Earhart and Mrs. Florence Dailey, named by Hooper as the solicitors. Earhart is prominent in Democratic circles, and Mrs. Dailey is the sister of State Democratic Chairman Francis W. Poulson. Both are sales tax division employees.

Names of other employees to be questioned were not divulged.

The civil service commission reiterated a pledge to protect any civil service employees threatened with loss of their jobs for failure to contribute.

The commission never has and will not now permit the removal of any employee for refusal to make campaign contributions or refusal to engage in any kind of political activity," a commission statement said.

Up To Legal Chief
The civil service commission said that the responsibility for enforcing the law prohibiting solicitation of the attorney general and its promised "full cooperation" in any criminal action.

The commission statement added that it hoped the controversy over the solicitation would do two things: "First, focus the attention of the people of Ohio upon the fact that the functions of the state civil service commission are being strangled and sabotaged by inadequate appropriations, in spite of our frequent insistent appeals to the legislature for more funds, and, second, that responsibility for the prosecution of criminal violations of the civil service laws be placed where it rightfully belongs, upon the attorney general."

THREE KILLED IN MINE BLAST

Fear for Others Trapped In Explosion at Pottsville, Pa.

POTTSVILLE, Pa., April 27.—An explosion and fire killed at least three coal miners today and raised fears for others trapped far underground.

Rescue workers struggled desperately in the workings at the St. Clair Coal company's mine four miles from here. They sent up word they were hampered by "black damp." An emergency call went out for state rescue equipment.

Four hours after the blast, six of 28 miners in the affected level had been brought out alive and taken to hospitals—five burned and in critical condition. The fate of those remaining was uncertain.

The body of Frank Montgomery, 30, unmarried, of St. Clair, was brought to the surface shortly after rescue squads went down. Paul Sikra, 40, and Wasi Holovak, 45, also of St. Clair, were removed dead later.

AUTO TAGS AND RELIEF

Ohioans who buy auto license tags are at once in relief as Ohioans who don't buy tags—but no more so. They do not believe it would be proper for the state to draw money from the license tag fund to pay for public relief.

That is because they pay stiff prices for the privilege of owning an automobile in the understanding that the money thus obtained will be used for building and maintenance of roads. If the state is collecting more money than it needs, the price of license tags should be reduced.

If the state needs more money for relief, it should obtain that money equitably from all persons in the state, not from owners of automobiles. Or, if it plans to obtain the money in the latter manner, it should say so before, not after, the money has been collected. Automobile owners pay license tag fees with a minimum of complaint because they believe the service of good highways and streets is worth the price. If they knew in advance the money was to be diverted to other uses, they would object.

This is a principle of taxation which isn't always observed, but lapses of observance don't deny that the principle is sound. They merely affirm that necessity is the mother of many strange inventions in the handling of public money.

MORE JUICE

The motive behind the White House proposal for opening income from tax exempt securities and from government jobs to tax gatherers is 100 percent realistic.

The federal government probably is losing a half billion dollars a year in revenue because it can't levy against income from tax exempt securities. Besides that, it is losing the income tax from salaries of state, county and municipal employees.

It stands to reason that if government securities are to be issued in huge lots and if a large minority of the population is to be employed by government, the enormous cost of paying the interest and the salaries will make it necessary to get from taxpayers every cent of tax juice which can be squeezed out of them.

There can be no argument against equalizing the burden of taxation. There can be and will continue to be argument against imposing a burden so heavy enterprise is stifled. Holders of tax exempt securities and employees of government will add their voices to the general protest, if the White House proposals are approved by congress. It might do some good.

FOR A BATHTUB NAVY

When congress authorizes construction of more battleships, it hangs a shotgun over the American mantelpiece to impress would-be intruders.

When congress appropriates money to build the ships and lets the contracts, it loads the gun and fires it. The difference between these two big words shouldn't be overlooked.

The United States at the moment is authorizing a super-navy; it hasn't appropriated the money yet. This week, Germany entered the bluffing game by authorizing a navy as big as the United States navy. Great Britain and Japan were in the game before, though it must be admitted they don't bluff quite so much as this government does.

Nevertheless, the fact is that governments are maneuvering for position in their naval war largely with paper ships. It would be much simpler if their representatives could cluster 'round a big bathtub and fight with paper ships, too—simpler and a billion times cheaper. A dollar would build a super-super-battleship in any man's bathtub.

BORING FROM WITHIN

Apparently, the Nazi undermining of Czechoslovakia is coming along all right. The Nazi minority inside the country is getting obstreperous, it has succeeded in getting other groups excited, and the government is in hot water up to its armpits.

This is taking place according to a formula which calls for boring from within as the prelude to a smashing attack from without. It is exactly what happened in Austria. It is what the Communist Internationale has tried to do numerous times.

The theory is that if enough trouble is caused inside a country it will collapse. When it collapses,

DE VALERA TAKES PLACE AMONG IRISH IMMORTALS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Foreign Affairs Writer

NEW YORK, April 27—Prime Minister Eamon De Valera returns home to Dublin today from his signing of the Anglo-Irish treaty in London, sure of his place among the immortals in Ireland's hall of fame.

None of the fierce old kings of Tara could have felt greater pride as they came back from victory in battle, surrounded by their fighting wolf-hounds, than must this American-born revolutionist-statesman at the end of his mission of peace. The document he carries means in effect:

That England and southern Ireland have joined hands in a real gesture of friendship for the first time since King Henry in 1172 made great grants of Irish land to his Norman barons and thus started a fierce land-conflict.

Last Obstacle Removed

That Britain finally has removed the last obstacle which clouded the independence of Eire.

That prosperity can now return to the shamrock-dotted fields

there will be an opportunity for someone to take charge, and that someone will be the leader of the group which caused the trouble in the first place.

The secret, once the trouble has been stirred up, is exact timing. When the Nazis murdered Chancellor Dollfuss in 1934, hoping to take over the country, they timed their coup badly and it failed. When they crowded Chancellor Schuschnigg to the wall in 1938, their timing was perfect and they seized Austria. Czechoslovakia is next.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, April 28

An eventful but difficult day is the augury based on rather perplexing planetary aspects. There are signs of much definite activity, but this may encounter determined opposition. This frustration may be wrapped up in the affairs of elders or old institutions, either through death or calamity. There are complications that might involve cherished friendships. Good judgment, enterprise and resolution may engineer these serious matters into lucrative channels or personal gratifications.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves confronted by serious problems and many perplexities or contradictory situations. This may be attributable to a death or other bereavement and may involve travel or change. However, calmness and sagacious decisions may manipulate affairs into beneficial channels. Be careful to sustain cherished friendships and social relations.

A child born on this day may be studious and serious-minded and inclined to be aloof and reticent, although its tendency may be to original, creative and progressive thinking. It may be fond of roaming and may attain stability in professional life.

THE UPSHOT OF THIS CONFLICT

A drop of some 50 per cent in Anglo-Irish trade.

Ireland's biggest political plum is England's abandonment of defensive rights over the Irish ports of Bere Haven, Cobh and Lough Swilly, a concession to Irish pride in independence. In future the Dublin government will provide defenses, and the two countries will cooperate in case of war with a foreign nation.

Much credit for the success of the negotiations goes to youthful Malcolm MacDonald, British secretary of state for dominions.

The Irish Free State was established by England in 1921 and accorded dominion status, but this action didn't quench the desire of the southern Irish for absolute independence.

Full independence to all intents was achieved recently when the De Valera government set up the new State of Eire under a constitution which was approved by the voters of southern Ireland. England's abandonment of the treaty ports just about completes the work.

HANK! HANK!

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland, New York City.

DIGITALIS

Nothing is more fascinating for a doctor than to read old medical literature. The ancient beliefs are interesting to us who regard ourselves as "advanced." Only a century ago medical knowledge was sadly diluted by being mixed with a great deal of superstition.

Some of those beliefs, unknown to those who held them, had scientific background. But perhaps the real facts were not determined for centuries. As an example, let me tell you the story of digitalis.

Digitalis is a drug long used in the treatment of certain heart disorders. It has given relief to many who suffer from weak hearts and other disturbances of the blood system. Undoubtedly it has saved the lives of thousands.

In the middle of the 18th century there lived those who were called "witches" and "herb women." Some of them used a concoction of leaves for the relief of dropsy. Sometimes this helped to reduce the swelling, but too often it caused death.

One well known herb woman in England had used these leaves with remarkable success. News of her performance reached the ears of William Withering, an eminent physician. He submitted the matter to various tests.

Doctors Doubtful

In 1785, Withering announced the result of his experiments, but the medical profession hesitated to accept his statements. With our present knowledge of digitalis one can readily understand why these doctors were doubtful. But we have learned that extracts made from the leaves of the plant vary in strength and its successful use is only possible when a standardized preparation is used. The crudely-prepared drug of a century ago could easily be administered in poisonous doses. This explains the many fatal results in old times.

Modern scientific research has perfected its preparation so that in the hands of the modern physician it is a safe and extremely valuable remedy. Every precaution is taken to guard against imperfections.

Digitalis strengthens the contractions of the heart. It makes that organ pump more strongly and more efficiently. Of course, it is a drug that must never be given except under the supervision of a physician who has personally examined the heart.

Treasury Officials Disclose Resources

WASHINGTON, April 27—Treasury officials disclosed today they had approximately $10,500,000 in resources which could be, but probably won't be, tapped to pay for future spending.

Outside of borrowing, the only step taken so far to finance the new spending-lending program has been the devaluation of $1,400,000,000 worth of idle gold. The metal is being turned into a deposit credit by issuing currency against it.

These other sources are legally open to the treasury: Liquidating interests in federal and private corporations, $4,000,000,000; issuing currency on statutory silver profit, $1,500,000,000; using gold now in stabilization fund, $2,000,000,000; issuing "greenback" currency under 1933 AAA act, $3,000,000,000. Total, $10,500,000,000.

Officials said either practical or economic objections would interfere with the use of any one of these funds.

HELP STOMACH DIGEST FOOD

Without Laxatives—and You'll Eat Everything from Soup to Nuts

The stomach should digest two pounds of food daily. When you eat heavy, greasy, coarse or rich foods or when you are nervous, hurried or chafed—your stomach gets out too much acid. Your food doesn't digest and you have gas, heartburn, nausea, pain, sour stomach. You feel sour, sick and upset all over.

Doctors say never take a laxative for stomach pain. It is dangerous and foolish. It takes these little black tablets called Ballans for indigestion to make the excess stomach acids harmless, relieve distress in 5 minutes and put you back on your feet. Ballans is quick, it is safe and one box package proves it. Ask for Ballans for indigestion.

"Love I Dare Not" by ALLENE CORLISS

SYNOPSIS
Alec Graham, 36, is a successful playwright. Gina Warren, still lovely at 31, has equalled his success in her own field, portrait painting. In the late summer Gina returns to New York after three months in Ohio and meets Alec, by appointment, at a publisher's tea. The party is boring, so they decide to slip away for a long chat.

CHAPTER II
They went to a quiet place around the corner and fell at once into the easy, desultory conversation of old friends. Gina said, linking arm, talented fingers about the stem of her cocktail glass, "What do you hear from Tommy? Is he coming home soon?"
Tommy was Alec's young nephew. Twelve years before, Alec's sister's husband had died in Kobe, Japan, and she had come back to America with her young son. At that time, Tommy had been a shy, slender boy not quite twelve years old. Now, three years after graduating from Yale, he was doing well at a mining engineer's job in South America.
Alec said, "Tommy's contract is up this month. There's a chance he may not renew it."
"In that case, he would be coming home, I suppose," Gina knew that Alec missed Tommy more than he ever admitted that, with the exception of herself, he was by far the most important person in Alec's life.

Alec nodded. "Yes, but I don't imagine he will. And even if he would be only for a month or two, then he'd get another job and go tearing off to the ends of the world again. I reconcile myself," he added quietly, "to never seeing much of him any more when I discovered he had his heart set on being a mining engineer."
"All the same," said Gina, "I wish he would come back, even if it were only for a month or two." And she thought, "He would if he knew how much it would mean to Alec to have him."

If he guessed how lonely he gets for him.
She said aloud, "Did you have a good summer? Did you stay in town or take that house on Long Island?"
"I stayed in town, but I didn't have a particularly good summer. I finished the play in July and I missed you like the very devil all through August. New York was unbelievably dull."

It had been. With Gina in Ohio the summer had dragged interminably, and some time during her absence he had come to see himself, abruptly and uncompromisingly as a man no longer quite young who had never really struck his roots deeply anywhere, who had no pattern for living or, if he had one, then so trivial and casual a one that it was not worth considering seriously.

He had been born on an Iowa farm and he had chosen to be a New York playwright. But all his life he had been more concerned with the making of money than the writing of plays. And now he had plenty of money and not much else. Even his relationship with Gina had become so casual that at the end of a long separation he neglected to make a definite dinner engagement with her, taking it for granted she would be free to dine with him.

"Speaking of relatives," Gina added swiftly, "I have one I want to talk to you about."

Looking at her now in that expensive suit she had undoubtedly chosen hurriedly and carelessly in that hat which no woman, even as beautiful a person as Gina, could survive, he wondered what she had made of her life and if, like him, she ever regretted those early unfulfilled plans for marriage. He thought that, being a woman and emotionally dependent, she probably had. Yet her life had been full and satisfying. More than anyone he knew, she seemed to be happy and content. She was invariably tired, rushed, and it some times seemed to him she lived her life in a perpetual state of confusion; yet whenever you were with her, she was gay and interested and vital, and you forgot that when you first saw her you had thought that she looked tired and a little old, that, without wanting to, you had somehow felt sorry for her.

She smiled at him. "If New York was so dull, why didn't you get out of town, then?"
"Because any place I might have

WATER PROJECT FUNDS SOUGHT

Senate Commerce Committee to Recommend Appropriation

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 27—Senator Copeland told rivers and harbors congress yesterday that the senate commerce committee would recommend increased appropriation for water projects during the next fiscal year.

He said the committee, of which he is chairman, had approved an increase of $25,000,000 for rivers and harbors and approximately $5,000,000 for flood control.

Copeland spoke before a special meeting of the Congress called by Representative Driver (D-Ark), president, to protest appropriations proposed in the war department civil functions bill as passed by the house.

The house bill would appropriate $113,000,000 for flood control and $94,300,000 for rivers and harbors. Representative Driver opened the meeting with a demand that flood control advocates "take their problem to the country" unless water projects were included in the spending program of President Roosevelt.

Chairman Whittington (D-Miss) of the house flood committee, declared appropriations voted by the house were "utterly inadequate."

He recalled the house committee recently concluded hearings on projects estimated to cost a billion dollars and said many of them "never would be constructed unless existing laws requiring local contributions were modified."

Copeland said he favored public works that would preserve and increase the national wealth.

"We should earmark all we can for water projects and similar public works," he said, adding the railroads were opposing improvement of the country's streams on the ground such improvement would reduce shipping by rail.

Driver said the Congress wanted an appropriation of $2,000,000 for the next fiscal year and the same amount for each of the five succeeding years.

Her Vote Costs State $50

Mrs. Irene Polacek casts her ballot

Of all the votes cast in Illinois primary, first of the 48 states, that of Mrs. Irene Polacek probably was the most expensive and unusual. Mrs. Polacek is the only voter in the 51st precinct of Chicago's 20th ward and she voted in her own home where she is shown casting her ballot. To record the Polacek vote the tax payers had to hand out $8 apiece for four election judges and a clerk and $10 to Mrs. Polacek for the use of her apartment as a polling place.

Treaty Violations by Italy, Japan Cited By State Officials

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, April 27—The state department implied to the house foreign affairs committee today that it believed Italy and Japan had violated international treaties in operations against Ethiopia and China.

Chairman McReynolds (D-Tenn.) read to the committee a letter from Sumner Welles, acting secretary of state, which cited previous departmental expressions of its views on the observance of international obligations.

The letter was in response to a request for the department's opinion of a resolution by Representative Scott (D-Calif.) which asks the President to specify what nations in recent years have violated treaties to which they and the United States are signatories.

After hearing the letter read, the committee voted unanimously to report the Scott resolution adversely to the house and recommend that it be tabled. This was done soon afterward by the house.

Welles said it had been assumed that the Scott resolution was not intended to include failure of other governments to maintain payments of money to the United States under many existing agreements. But he added, without naming them, that 15 nations are in default or in arrears on such payments.

Nine girls were present. A business meeting was followed by an informal program. Girls sewed on articles to be sent to a mission in Burma. Lunch was served.

The place for the meeting May 31 will be announced later.

Meadow Brook Club Will Convene

The Meadow Brook Community club will meet at the school house Tuesday evening, May 3. Miss Elna Rose, teacher of the school, will preside.

State Auditor Hurls Charge of Political Interference Today

COLUMBUS, April 27—Charges and denials that politics was preventing proper enforcement of the sales tax law in Cuyahoga county were hurled by two state officials before the state emergency board today.

State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson made the charge of political interference in making a request for an emergency allowance of $50,000 with which to conduct a sweeping investigation of sales tax collections in Cleveland and surrounding territory.

The denial was made by Walter Mitchell, member of the state tax commission in charge of administration of the sales tax. He vigorously opposed the allowance to Ferguson.

"If any money is to be allowed to help in enforcement of the sales tax law it should be given to the tax commission and not to the state auditor," Mitchell said.

"There is a lot of politics mixed up in this thing," Ferguson said. "Everything possible is being done to stop an investigation by the auditor."

"Joe Ferguson, I say you deliberately lie when you say there is politics in this," retorted Mitchell. "It is time for this show business by the auditor to stop."

The board took Ferguson's request under advisement.

BOARDMAN FIRST IN TRIANGULAR TRACK MEET

SALEM SECOND IN THREE-WAY TRACK EVENTS

Lisbon Finishes Third As Allen's Team Wins Meet

Capturing first place in nine of 14 events, Coach Lowell Allen's Boardman High team defeated Salem and Lisbon in a triangular track and field meet at Reilly stadium yesterday.

Boardman piled up 72 5-6 points winning the meet. Salem was second with 60 5-6 points while Lisbon brought up the rear with 18 1/2 markers.

The victory was exceptionally sweet for Coach Allen, a former Salem High and Mt. Union athlete, inasmuch as it was the first time one of his teams ever conquered Salem in any field of sport.

In addition to copping nine firsts, Boardman also tied for first in the high jump with Salem and Lisbon. Lutsch tied for first in the high jump with Salem and Lisbon.

Coach Fred Cope's Quakers garnered four first places, two of which were scored by Max Lutsch, who came through with victories in the shot put and discus.

Lutsch tied for first in the high jump with Dickson of Boardman and DeSallam of Lisbon. The tying height in the jump was 6 feet, 2 inches, but this did not allow for considerable sag in the bar. No official measurement was taken.

Harold Culler and Cliff Lowry accounted for Salem's other firsts, the former winning the mile run and the latter taking first in the pole vault.

Culler unleashed a blazing burst of speed in the last 100 yards of the mile event to win in 4 minutes 47.9 seconds, the best time he has made this season. He trailed throughout most of the last leg of the mile jaunt, but turned on the steam in sufficient time to beat out Dangle of Lisbon and Coates of Boardman in the most exciting race of the afternoon.

Lowry topped 11 feet, 6 inches in winning the pole vault for the Quakers. Bob Clark and Tommy Rhodes of Salem tied for second in this event, clearing 10 feet, 6 inches before being eliminated.

Kraja, Cooper and Dickson were the mainstays for Coach Allen's team. Kraja won the 160 and 440 yard dashes. Cooper finished first in the high and low hurdles and tied for second in the pole vault and Dickson won the 220-yard dash, took second in the shot put and tied for first in the high jump.

Kraja turned in good time in winning both the 100 and 440-yard events, stepping the former in 10.1 seconds and winning the latter in 53.8 seconds.

100-YARD DASH—Kraja (B.), won; Dangle (L.), 2; Morris (S.), 3; DeSallam (L.), 4. Time—10.1.

220 Keglers Attend City's Biggest Bowling Banquet

Mineralite-Tossers Hear John Ackerman Discuss 1939 A. B. C. and Bowling's Future

Testifying to the increasing popularity of local bowling activity, more than 220 followers of the tenpin game from seven men's leagues attended the annual get-together at the Salem Bowling association at the German hall last night.

High and low average bowlers, who for seven months have heaved 16-pound mineralites down alleyways, filled every chair in the club's lodge room, making the association's 1938 banquet the biggest in local bowling history.

Although several leagues have yet to complete their 1937-38 seasons, the annual get-together officially rang down the curtain on the season so far as the association is concerned. The city bowling body held its annual meeting three weeks ago and brushed aside final business for the season at this time.

Departing from past precedents, no league prizes were awarded at this year's banquet because of the great amount of time required to hand out the awards and the fact that some leagues have not finished their season.

The majority of the leagues which have completed their seasons handed out their prize awards prior to the banquet.

Rather than a lengthy session of prize distribution, the banquet was followed by a short program, presided over by Ralph W. Hawley, president of the association, and

MEDWICK IS DUE BACK IN LINEUP

Cards Hope to Use Heavy Hitting Star Against Cincinnati Today

CINCINNATI, April 27.—The hapless St. Louis Cardinals, pushed to the National league cellar with one victory in the young season, hoped today that Joe Medwick would be in shape to go to his place in the outfield in the final of the series against the Cincinnati Reds.

Medwick, out of the lineup with lumbago, joined the team here but was considered doubtful whether he would see action.

Lefty Lee Grissom got the assignment to make it three straight against the Cards, while Lon Warneke drew the hurling job for Frankie Frisch's gang.

The Reds spotted the Cards seven runs yesterday and then pulled out with a winner in the tenth, 8 to 7. The Cards scored five runs in the fourth inning as Patcher, Curt Davis homered with the bases loaded. Two more came home in the fifth on a walk, fielder's choice and Pepper Martin's triple, which ended the hurling for Al Hollingsworth.

Ernie Lombardi started off the Red scoring with a homer in the seventh and then the boys went to work with a hitting bombardment, counting 16 safeties off five pitchers. Four singles accounted for two more runs. The Reds tied it up in the eighth and Ival Goodman knocked a single in the tenth with the bases loaded, bringing in the winning tally.

featuring tricks of magic and ventriloquism by W. F. Ross of the Electric Purnace Co. and a talk by John Ackerman, secretary of the Cleveland Bowling association.

Ackerman, a bowler for 35 years and secretary of the Cleveland association for the past 16 years, discussed the outlook for bowling and plans for the 1939 American Bowling Congress tournament, which will be held in Cleveland.

Telling first of how the Cleveland association campaigned for the national tournament for three years, Ackerman went on to explain how the A. B. C. competition will be handled in the public auditorium and invited Salem teams to enter.

He pointed out that Cleveland will be offering something new in A. B. C. tournament bowling in staging the competition in the underground section of the auditorium, which was especially constructed to handle this event.

A corporation has been formed, he said, for the sole purpose of sponsoring the tournament, adding that he has been named secretary-treasurer of the organization and that Eddie Lintz of Lintz Recreation alleys has been named president.

Salem is expected to furnish from eight to 16 teams, Ackerman said, the majority of which will probably enter the booster division for teams with averages of less than 850. The booster division will not be stressed as much next year as it has been in the past, he added.

In speaking of what the future held for bowling, Ackerman said that he believed the kegling sport has merely "scratched the surface." He commented that in the near future he expects to see practically all alleys air conditioned and equipped with electric pin-setters and numerous other improvements, including one which would require the weight of league pins to be more than 3 1/2 ounces.

As additional proof of the increasing popularity of bowling, Ackerman pointed to new found interest among women and high school students.

Following his speech, the Cleveland secretary answered several questions put to him by local bowlers.

Ackerman was introduced by President Hawley, who spoke briefly on the past bowling season and commented on several changes in the Brunswick-Balke Colender bowling sweepstakes which will be held again next season.

Association Secretary W. H. Juergens was called on for remarks on the Masonic temple headpin bowling tournament, which will end this Saturday.

In recognition of their services to local bowling, Hawley and Juergens were honored by a standing ovation of thanks by the bowlers.

The exhibitions of magic and ventriloquism by Ross were well received and drew several heavy rounds of applause.

Greenford Spanks Goshen High Nine

DAMASCUS, April 27.—Goshen High school's baseball team was defeated in its first start of the season yesterday, losing to Greenford, 4 to 1. Snyder struck out 12 Goshen batters and pitched three-hit ball for the winners.

Fryfole went the route on the mound for Goshen and allowed six hits. A home run by Brudery of Greenford and a triple by Ealder of Goshen were the long hits of the game.

In addition to Fryfole and Satter, other Goshen players who saw action in the game were: Theil, catcher; Court, third; Keeler, short; Schoeni, first; Baker, left; Penkava, second; Buckman, center; Long, second, and Kimes, left.

WOOD PONDER'S BEGINNING NEW TENNIS CAREER

Wimbledon Titled of '31 Only 26 Now and In Good Form

LOS ANGELES—Spring has come again to California, and with it the desire of blonde Sidney B. Wood, Jr. to regain the tennis mastery that once carried him to victory in the Wimbledon championship.

The one-time court wizard, whose keen, strategic play earned him recognition as one of the brainiest players America has produced, is beginning all over at the bottom—and he is only 26. He says his only achievement on the second attempt is that he is in sound health.

Wood originally used tennis as a means of developing his body. He was a frail, sickly lad until he picked up a racket and walked on a court with the single purpose of absorbing sunshine and gaining strength.

He became a brilliant but never steady player, and finally climbed to second position in American men's rankings. Although he never achieved the top listing, he did win the Wimbledon title in 1931.

"I have yet to play my best game," he said recently, "I'm only 26 but I've been around so long that most players probably think I'm a grizzled old man." Actually, he is the same age as Ellsworth Vines, the world professional titleholder.

Two years ago the blonde young man set out to achieve financial independence. He tried to mix business and tennis, and the combination was disastrous to his game. Finally he abandoned the courts and concentrated on Wall Street. He came out with enough money to live comfortably, and with his amateur status intact. After a two-year lay-off from major tournaments he is working steadily here.

He is presently interested in a mine in Palm Springs, but mostly in tennis. He won the Palm Springs invitation tournament easily, although his competition was not of top rank. Although not one fan in a dozen would give him a chance against the present American king, Don Budge, Wood still could give Frank Parker, Robert Riggis, Joe Hunt and others a stiff battle in his present shape. If he regains the sharpness of his angle shots into the corners, he believes he can defeat them consistently.

Never a driving, smashing player, Wood's strongest forte was his caginess. Thus, he hopes, the comeback route for him will not be so hard as for a man who relied extensively on power and strength.

HEMSLEY WON'T CATCH HARDER

Vitt Assigns Pytlak To Back Up Cleveland Mound Ace Today

CHICAGO, April 27.—Mel Harder and Thornton Lee, former Tribe southpaw, were the rival hurlers today in the last of the current series between the Cleveland Indians and Chicago White Sox.

Rolie Hemsley, backstop who ran about Manager Oscar Vitt under suspicious circumstances and was fined $250, returned to the Cleveland tepee yesterday, but Vitt assigned Frankie Pytlak to catch Harder. This battery turned in a shining performance against Detroit last Friday.

It appeared that Hemsley would not see action until Bob Feller takes the mound Friday at St. Louis. Johnny Allen, who has expressed a preference for Pytlak's catching, will hurl against the Browns tomorrow.

The Tribe garnered 18 hits to defeat Jimmy Dykes' White Sox yesterday, 10 to 6. Lary, Averill and Trosky paced Cleveland's attack with three hits each. The victory was the season's second for Pitcher Earl Whitehill, although he needed help from Denny Galehouse at the finish. Whitehill allowed 10 hits in seven and two-thirds innings.

JACOBS LOOKS TO BUSY YEAR

Summer Fight Season To Be Topped by Louis-Schmeling Bout

NEW YORK, April 27.—Mike Jacobs and New York looked forward today to the busiest and biggest summer fight season of many years, topped by the return match between Joe Louis and Max Schmeling at Yankee stadium on the night of June 22.

Jacobs set the site for the bout yesterday after considering offers from Chicago, Detroit and Philadelphia. The summer program also will include the doings of Henry Armstrong, Barney Ross and Lou Ambers in their three-cornered dispute over the welterweight and lightweight titles.

Uncle Mike has fond hopes of a crowd of 80,000 and a net gate of $1,000,000 or more for the second bout between the Negro heavyweight champion and the German who punctured the Louis bubble in the same ring, June 19, 1936.

The fighters will start training early next month.

Collapse Of St. Louis Cardinals Talk In Dugouts Among Major League Clubs

BY GAYLE TALBOT Associated Press Sports Writer

The amazing collapse of the St. Louis Cardinals at the outset of the National league race is causing more comment in the baseball dugouts than the failure of the Yankees to start off at their customary clip.

The players and managers have a strong hunch that the Yanks are due to start pouring it on the ball about tomorrow, when Joe DiMaggio likely will break into the lineup as a pinch-hitter. But they don't know about the Cardinals. They suspect that the departure of Dizzy Dean has taken a lot more out of the Birds than generally was thought.

Dizzy didn't get along with Manager Frankie Frisch the rival players admit, yet they declare that his fight into the Cards and embodied more than any other member of the team the spirit of the "Gas-house Gang." They said the Cards are going to miss more than Dizzy's pitching, and it begins to look like they're right.

Yesterday, with Slugger Joe Medwick still out of the lineup, the Cards dropped their seventh game in eight starts, a 10-inning, 8 to 7 decision to Cincinnati. And this, even after Curt Davis, the pitcher who had been on the Chicago hit a homerun with three on in the fourth. The Reds scored all their runs in the last four frames, lambasting Davis and his four successors impartially.

"Flanagan holds six world's records and 35 national marks," Forsyth said, "but he is just now reaching his peak. Within the next year I expect him to break existing marks in every event over 100 yards. By doing so he'll prove beyond doubt that the American crawl is superior to any other stroke yet devised."

Forsyth expressed surprise that many coaches held the "Japanese crawl" superior to the American. "I boil when I hear someone make that claim," the soft-spoken Irish coach said, "The Japanese crawl was developed after Japan invited some of our outstanding swimmers over there a few years ago for exhibitions. They took pictures of our stars in action and used them as the basis for the development of their own technique. Scrutinize the Japanese crawl and you'll see that it is nothing more than the American crawl altered in a few minor ways."

Forsyth has been coaching Flanagan since the free style race was 7 years old. The youngster first attracted Forsyth's attention while swimming in a meet for Miami newboys.

While Forsyth has been guiding Flanagan to the top he has developed numerous new training theories that are now widely copied.

"It was an old and accepted training method," Forsyth said, "that in conditioning a swimmer for a long race, such as a mile, that you never let him swim over that distance. Last summer while preparing Flanagan for the National Outdoor meet I tossed that into discard. Ralph's daily grind included a 3-mile swim against the current in Long Island sound."

"To prove the worth of such training the kid broke the world's record for the mile in the meet at Chicago when he was clocked in 20 minutes, 42 6-10 seconds. The next day he came back to break the world's mark for the quarter-mile."

Perry's Fighters Win Three Bouts

Three of six fighters from Jimmy Perry's Athletic club who appeared in bouts at Alliance last night pounded out victories, while Don West, one of Perry's leading amateur sluggers, was held to a draw by Freddy Jones of Alliance.

Joe Janovic, Freddy Fox and Carl Wanner posted victories. Janovic and Fox won by decision from Kid Domiani and Jack Ferris, respectively, while Wanner won by a technical knockout over Joe Devine.

Al Stoffer and Frankie Quinn lost their bouts, the former losing to Dominic Precona and the latter to Robert Johnson.

The last of the undefeated teams went under as the Chicago Cubs bunched two triples and a single in the tenth to halt Pittsburgh's mad career, 5 to 3. Tex Carleton went the route for the winners, checking the Pirates with eight hits. Tony Lazzeri, ex-Yank, closed a home-run.

Home runs by Mel Ott and Jim Rippie featured the New York Giants 12 to 8 win over the Phils.

Carl Hubbell whose turn it was to toil for the Giants, is laid up with a heavy cold.

Jim Turner pitched his second smooth victory for the Boston Bees as they trimmed Brooklyn, 4 to 1, limiting the Dodgers to five hits.

The Yankees put on their first big inning of the season to even things with the Philadelphia Athletics by a score of 5 to 3. They did it all in the third, Lou Gehrig driving one run across with a double and Joe Gordon, rookie second baseman, hitting one out of the park with one aboard.

Owner Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators continues to chortle at his acquisition of Zeke Bonura. The hefty first baseman parked one in the stands in the seventh round, scoring a mate ahead of him and beating Johnny Marcum of Boston, 6 to 4.

Cleveland won its sixth straight and took a firmer grip on first place in the American league by slugging the Chicago White Sox, 10 to 6 on 18 hits. They scored in each of the last five innings. Manager Oscar Vitt's rearrangement of the Tribal line-up this season, with Earl Averill and Hal Trosky hitting fifth and sixth, respectively, looks like hot stuff.

Elden Auker of Detroit let the St. Louis Browns down with five hits and beat them, 7 to 1. Gehrig hit a three-bagger and two singles for the Tigers.

Here and There About Town

Rotary Hears Traveler

A discussion of America and its scenic beauties by John D. Lippy, Jr., featured the weekly noon meeting of the Salem Rotary club at the Memorial building yesterday.

Lippy, in his talk on the subject, "Amazing America," told of many of the places he had visited and sites he had seen in traveling 350,000 miles in United States and Mexico. Dr. Gail A. Rose was program chairman.

Election of officers will be one of the items of business at the next meeting of the club.

Hospital Notes

The following people have been admitted to Salem City hospital: For surgical treatment, Mrs. Elba Snyder, R. D. 2, Salem, Oscar Bailey, 517 Washington ave., Leon Wooding of R. D. 5, Salem, Mary Ann Bittner of 639 East State st., Esther Luplow of Poland, Mrs. C. G. Linton of Leetonia, Donald Frost of Hanoverton; for medical treatment, Mrs. Mary Campbell of R. D. 1, Salem and Peter Halczak of Berlin Center.

Building Permits

Paul C. O'Neil obtained a building permit at Mayor George Harroff's office yesterday for the erection of a $3,000 home at 1283 N. Elsworth ave.

A permit was granted Frank J. Huff for a $200 repair to his house at 1893 E. Pershing st.

Presbyterian Choir Rehearsal

The choir of the Presbyterian church will hold rehearsal at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the Memorial building. All members who were in the cantata given Palm Sunday are asked to attend.

Scouts Plan Hike

Boy Scouts Troop 3 will meet at 5:30 tonight at the Presbyterian church to go on a hike. Boys are asked to bring their own supplies.

Baptist Choir Rehearsal

The choir of the First Baptist church will rehearse at 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the church.

Huge Non-Military Fund Is Approved

WASHINGTON, April 27.—A $226,962,867 appropriation for the 1939 non-military activities of the war department won approval today of the senate appropriations committee.

The amount was $30,353,142 above the total voted by the house, the committee adding $25,000,000 for preservation and maintenance of existing river and harbor works and $5,000,000 for new flood control work on the Mississippi river system.

Trumbull Honored For Good Road Work

WARREN, April 27.—Cited by the Ohio Good Roads Federation as having the best WPA road work of any county in the entire United States, Trumbull county will be honored Thursday by a highway inspection field-day and visit of engineers, commissioners, legislators and WPA officials of state and district.

Registrar Is Ready To Distribute Fees

COLUMBUS, April 27.—Frank West, state registrar of motor vehicles, has announced that the first 1938 share of license fees distributed to subdivisions would total $6,010,776, or about 45 per cent of the total to be disbursed throughout the year, as additional licenses are sold. Checks will be mailed probably about May 1, he said.

Air Mail Spirit?

CHILLICOTHE, April 27.—For 10 days Mrs. James Wood puzzled over why letters were missing from her mail box. Then she turned detective and discovered that a bluebird was looting the box. Across the road from her rural home she found three of the missing letters.

Heads Honor Camp

LONDON, April 27.—Robert Bratton has been named head of the Lebanon honor camp of the London prison farm succeeding the late C. C. Brumenschenkel. Bratton formerly was a guard at the London institution.

PROSPECT MIBS LEADERS NAMED

Seven To Fight It Out for School Title In The News Tourney

and Denny Bruderly, who was victorious in the fourth grade.

Other room winners at Prospect are Robert Askey in the first grade, Jack Krepps in the second grade and Richard Oley in the third grade. Earl Solomon was the winner in the elimination event held in Prospect's special class.

Prospect is the second school to complete its room elimination tournaments, Columbus school having finished its tourneys last week.

Columbia Finals Loom

J. M. (Joe) Kelley, manager of the Memorial building and city recreation director, who is in charge of The News mibs tournament, expected to confer today with Miss Elizabeth Horne, principal of Columbia school, in regard to holding the Columbia finals either tomorrow or Friday.

If the Columbia school finals are held tomorrow, the way will be clear to hold the Prospect finals on Friday.

Room tournaments in the five other schools competing in the marble event are progressing rapidly with the aid of fair weather and fine cooperation by the teachers and principals.

When all of the school champions have been named, the date for the city finals will be set. The winner of the Salem championship will qualify for the district tournament at Canton, thereby receiving a chance to play for one of the two free trips to the national tournament at Wildwood, N. J.

"Never Again"

PITTSBURGH — With her seventh marriage on the rocks, Mrs. Effie K. Warnock, 36, today foresees further ventures in romance.

Confined to bed by an injury, she was unable to appear in court yesterday when husband No. 7, James Warnock, Jr., asked a divorce on charges of cruelty.

"This is the first time a man has ever sued me," she said, "and this is my last marriage. From now on I'll work for my own living and let the men work for theirs."

Dog Quarantine

EAST LIVERPOOL, April 27.—The health board today ordered a 30-day quarantine against stray dogs after physicians reported three known cases of rabies and 14 other persons under treatment here.

Asks Reelection

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Representative White (R-Ohio) announced today he would seek reelection. He represents the 13th district.

Operated Upon

Former Vice President Charles G. Daves (above), 72, underwent an operation for acute appendicitis in a New York hospital. He and his wife were in New York to attend the wedding of Francis Warren Pershing when he was stricken.

Theater Attractions

Henry Fonda and Bette Davis in a scene from "Jezebel," State theater attraction Thursday through Saturday.

Bette Davis, considered by many critics the foremost dramatic actress in pictures, is starred in the film "Jezebel" which will be the State theater's attraction Thursday through Saturday.

Henry Fonda, George Brent, Margaret Lindsay, Fay Bainter, Richard Cromwell, Donald Crisp and John Lili are important roles in the film which tells the story of a willful, spoiled, tempestuous young southern girl who earns herself the name of "Jezebel."

Shocks the City

The name is given to her after she shocks all New Orleans with her wild behavior. She is in love with Fonda and he with her, but after a quarrel she sends him away and he marries Miss Lindsay, a northern girl.

"Jezebel" refuses to let him go in spite of his marriage and does everything in her power to win him back. Her selfishness brings about the death of Brent. Yellow fever epidemics break out and Fonda is stricken. Seeing that Miss Davis and Fonda love each other, his wife steps aside and Miss Davis accompanies Fonda to the quarantine island off New Orleans.

"In Old Chicago" concludes a four-day showing at the State tonight. Alice Brady, Tyrone Power, Don Ameche and Alice Payne have the principal roles in the story of the rise of Chicago and its destruction in the fire of 1871.

Two pictures show at the Grand tonight and Thursday.

Banks Liquidated In 2 Ohio Cities

COLUMBUS, April 27.—State Banking Supt. S. H. Squire has announced final liquidation of the Union Savings bank of Yorkville, in Jefferson county, and the Ohio Valley bank in Portsmouth.

Squire said a final payment of $10,000 to depositors would bring to 498 the total dividends. Sale of remaining Ohio Valley assets for $10,000 permitted a $27,000 final payment for that bank, bringing its total to 55 per cent.

Luck—Bad to Worse

SEATTLE — After this E. E. Lybeck will wait until he sees the whites of their eyes—or at least the color of their clothes—before shooting at any intruders at his home.

Lybeck, fired by the recent theft of a pair of trousers, blazed away with a shotgun when he found a man trespassing in his home. The man's trousers were ripped full of holes by the charge. Later when the prowler was taken to police headquarters, Lybeck discovered the shot-ridden trousers were his own.

Czechoslovakian Nazi Leader Demands Autonomy--Or Else

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK, April 27.—Some countries still accord certain classes of condemned persons the ancient Athenian privilege of acting as their own executioners.

In line with this old custom a socratic cocktail has just been handed to Czechoslovakia with the intimation that self-destruction is the easiest way out.

That is the meaning of the latest developments directed at this small but wealthy republic.

Harassed Czechoslovakia has been presented with demands which, if acceded, would mean dismemberment of the nation.

Specifically:

Firstly, Konrad Henlein, Nazi leader in Czechoslovakia, has demanded complete autonomy under Nazi principles for the big German population, comprising a quarter of the whole people and occupying about a sixth of the country's area.

Accompanying the demand was an indirect but nevertheless clear threat of revolution or "foreign war" as an alternative.

"We desire neither civil war nor foreign war," he told a party congress, "but we cannot longer tolerate conditions which to use are a kind of war in the midst of peace."

Henlein was fresh from a conference in Berlin with Field Marshal Goering, Herr Hitler's hard-hitting, right-hand-man.

Herr Henlein demanded a lot of other things as well, but they can be passed over, because the one demand is enough to disrupt the nation.

While these demands were being made, there were two other developments which could scarcely be coincidences.

The big Hungarian revisionist league at a meeting in Budapest demanded the return of Slovakia which was taken from Hungary at the end of the war and made part of Czechoslovakia. A minority of Slovaks has joined in claiming autonomy.

At the same time an agitation has been started for the autonomy of a slice of northern Czechoslovakia which contains Poles.

The Praha government is in a very tough spot.

Thus far there is little indication that either France or Russia, Czechoslovakian allies—have figured out any way of helping the hard-pressed little democracy.

Railway Company Issues Dividend

PHILADELPHIA, April 27.—The Norfolk and Western Railway company has declared a quarterly dividend of $2.50 a share on the common stock, payable June 18.

In announcing the dividend the company said that "in view of the heavy loss in gross earnings, the dividend will not be fully earned during the first six months of the year."

At the reorganization meeting of the directors today, W. L. Jones was re-elected president and the other officers reappointed.

A Remarkable Improvement

The famous patented Insulo-Pad is a resilient protecting cushion that lies atop the inner springs and:

- (1) Protects the coils from boring up into the upholstery.
- (2) It makes it impossible for the feeling to pack down into the tops of the inner springs.
- (3) Results in a softer mattress.
